Remember in Prayer:

- Our widows, widowers and lonely ones, the unborn, prodigal sons and daughters, those undergoing treatments, and all those with hidden crosses. ("He will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer." Psalms 102:17)

Meditation:

When a Man goes thirsty to the well, his thirst is not allayed merely by going there. On the contrary, it is increased every step he goes. It is by what he draws out of the well that his thirst is satisfied. And just so it is not by the mere bodily exercise of waiting on ordinances that you will ever come to peace; but by tasting Jesus in the ordinances - whose flesh is meat indeed, and His blood drink indeed.

Oh, look on the broken bread, and you will see this glory still streaming through. Here is the heart of God laid bare; God is manifest in the flesh. You are pouring over your own heart, examine your feelings, what your disease. Avert the eye from all within. "Behold Me, behold Me," Christ cries. "Look to Me, and be ye saved." Behold the glory of Christ. There is much difficulty about your own heart, but no darkness about the heart of Christ. Look in through His wounds; believe what you see in Him.

It is a pledge that Christ is yours. When you see the elements, your heart begins to burn; when you touch them, your bands are loosed; when you taste them, your eyes are enlightened; when you eat them, your soul is strengthened.
